Energy Efficiency Leaders to Gather in Scottsdale for NAESCO Annual Conference

The National Association of Energy Service Companies (NAESCO) will host its 33rd Annual Conference November 17-18, in Scottsdale, Arizona at the Westin Kierland Resort. The Conference will focus on the utility and Energy Service Company, (ESCO) responses to complex and often conflicting market signals, the state of the ESCO industry, and the role of Measurement and Verification protocols in the context of market applications.

Featured sessions will include: Measurement and Verification Protocols: Do Existing Protocols Meet the Need? with Steve Burr of the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality; Scaling Up Integrated Energy and Water Efficiency Project Investment with Shane Snyder of the University of Arizona; and The Utility of the Future with John Hargrove, President & CEO of the Phoenix-based, Association of Energy Services Professionals. A Keynote Address, Creating Prosperity through a Clean Energy Economy: Technology, Policy & Finance will be given by Dan Reicher, formerly with Google, currently Executive Director, Steyer-Taylor Center for Energy Policy and Finance, Stanford University. See complete agenda for more information. Additionally, there will be a pre-conference workshop on new opportunities in the application of Property Assessed Clean Energy Financing, (PACE).

Terry E. Singer, Executive Director of NAESCO said, “NAESCO is pleased to host what will be a very well attended conference spotlighting an extremely timely look at the state of the utility and ESCO industries.”

Online registration for the Conference is available on the NAESCO Website. ESCO leaders, energy efficiency vendor representatives, EE and RE project financiers, policy makers, public administrators, utility energy efficiency program managers, customers working with ESCOs or contemplating an ESCO-delivered energy efficiency retrofit, and innovative thought leaders in energy efficiency technology, design and implementation.

ABOUT NAESCO

The National Association of Energy Service Companies (NAESCO) celebrates 33 years of advancing the energy efficiency industry. NAESCO is the leading national trade organization representing and promoting the energy efficiency industry in the energy marketplace, the media, and the government both at the state and federal level. NAESCO's active membership consists of key energy efficiency industry leaders representing ESCOs, energy efficiency and energy equipment manufacturers, suppliers, and subcontractors. NAESCO also welcomes as members, engineers, consultants, financial/legal/insurance providers, government agencies, and thought leaders from the energy NGO and academic communities.

Energy Service Companies contract with private and public sector energy users to provide cost-effective energy efficiency retrofits across a wide spectrum of client facilities, from college campuses to water treatment plants. Effectively utilizing a performance-based contract business model, ESCOs have implemented over $50 billion in comprehensive energy efficiency retrofit projects over the last three decades.*
